Keynote Speakers

Andrew Warren

Andrew is the Chair of the Teaching Schools Council, an organisation which plays a key role in helping to shape national policy, working with senior civil servants and teaching schools across the country to ensure every child, in every part of the country, has access to a great school.

Drew Povey

Drew is a highly successful leader of change and transition. His unique view and approach have positioned him as an innovative leadership coach and facilitator. Now as Executive Headteacher, Drew works on a programme of school improvement and mentoring with other Headteachers.

John Edwards

John Edwards started his role on 8 May 2017. Before his appointment, John was Director of Education and Skills at Manchester city council. Earlier in his career he also worked as: a mathematics teacher and senior leader in secondary schools in Yorkshire, a Principal Examiner for Mathematics Service Director for Schools and Lifelong Learning at Wakefield council and Assistant Director for Learning at Kirklees council.

Also joined by:

Regional TSC Representatives Chris Wheatley (EMSYH) and Chris Abbott (SYH).

Workshops

Unique opportunity to attend workshop(s) focused on effective evidence based practice surrounding the 'Big 3'. Teaching Schools will have the opportunity to hear from colleagues from both in and outside of the region on successful planning, overcoming challenges and barriers underpinned by the regional Peer Review Framework.
