

York Women Leading in Education Network

Get involved in your school-led regional network to support the leadership development of women in education

Supported by the Department for Education, this coaching programme aims to support women to explore and apply for leadership roles in schools.

The role of the network is to:

- raise the profile and importance of supporting women with their career within education
- identify and support more women with their career progression into leadership
- create local, regional and national networking opportunities to share experiences, such as job sharing and flexible working
- create the potential for development through coaching, mentoring and group discussions to raise aspirations and challenge myths and self-limiting beliefs
- take an active role in supporting our coaching pledge
- work with other providers to maximise opportunities for women

Register your interest with us

If you are interested in being coached or coaching a colleague, please contact your link colleague and register your interest by emailing admin@eborhope-tsa.org by Friday 7th December. The network welcomes support from both male and female coaches.
